FAULT OF THE LANGUAGE.
"I like the Yankee girl," he said.
"I like to see her bustle."
A startled glance on him was bent,
And yet the poor man simply meant
The verb that means "to bustle."

Maysville Shuts Out Paris, 4 to 0, and Didn't Give Opponents a Look-in

We Want That Blue Grass Rag Called the Pennant

Paris, Ky., July 19th.—The Paris club was a very victim to the rivermen this afternoon when the latter took the game at White Park by the score of 4 to 0. Applegate pitched for the home team and pitched a first-class game, but the team lost through their utter inability to hit Vance. They made only three hits in the entire game to seven for their opponents, and their three hits were scattered through the game, Kuhlman getting one in the second, Hauser one in the sixth and Chapman one in the ninth. This statement is all that is necessary to account for the loss of the game, as no club can win without hitting the ball if the other club hits.

The Paris team is in a crippled condition. Hicks has been out of the game with a bad finger since the game at Lexington Sunday, and Goodman has been catching. He plays a good game behind the bat, but it leaves a weak spot in right field.

The management of the club announces that they will have an entirely new battery in the game tomorrow, when Maysville will again be the attraction.

The score:

Painful Accident
G. V. Cracraft of Covington, fireman on a C. & O. freight engine, met with a painful accident this morning about 2 o'clock. He was standing on the steps attached to the water tank looking into the fire box on the engine, and in passing over the ladder at the foot of Market street his leg came in contact with a bridge railing and broke his knee cap. He was taken to the St. Charles Hotel where he was attended by Dr. A. O. Taylor, company surgeon.

Dr. Page Died From Apoplexy
The inquest over the body of Dr. C. W. Page, the negro veterinary surgeon, who was found dead in his room at Lexington, this morning returned a verdict that death was due to apoplexy.

Some mystery surrounded the death of Dr. Page, it being believed possible that he had been chloroformed or given poison, but an autopsy was held, disproving the report.

Page was a Maysville man and stood high in his profession.

SOCIETY

Mrs. E. C. Plater, one of our brilliant minds and courtly ladies, had a few friends drop in informally for an hour the other day to greet Miss Carrie Hays, lately returned from Rome and her cousin, Miss Macfarland, who spent some time abroad, also was present. Miss Hays charmingly recounted an audience with the Pope. Mrs. Foster Harbour and Miss Harriet Johnson collaborated on Miss Kittle Chestnut. Mrs. Harbour's paper was admirably prepared and highly instructive, while Miss Johnson gave personal snapshots of this greatly gifted woman; by the way, Miss Johnson is herself a most versatile and charming girl and is making good with Miss Chestnut. Miss Macfarland was called upon for a conversation along lines of her experience and regaled the company with tales of life amid the people with whom she has worked. Miss Plater was the presiding genius of it all and served and welcomed them with her intuitive form of culture and aristocracy.

W. H. Taft. J. S. Sherman.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
 WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
 JAMES S. SHERMAN.

To be a "hayseed" isn't so bad seeing that the haycrop this year is worth $200,000,000.

Not a dollar of trust money was used to elect Taft in 1908, but Belmont gave a quarter of a million dollars to the Bryan campaign fund. And the Democratic party stands for "moral parity?"

Senator W. O. Bradley has one very important reason for wanting an early adjournment of Congress. He is anxious to get back to Kentucky that he may enjoy a real old fashioned country dinner, one of the kind which he thinks Kentucky only can furnish. Senator Bradley is tired of the food dished out at the Senate restaurant, and he doesn't hesitate to say so. Rather than eat his lunch in the Capitol he often goes without any, and waits until he can telephone to some near-by house and order a dinner prepared for him of the most pronounced country style. Such places are few in Washington, but occasionally they can be found, and Senator Bradley has located one. While the fare there is pretty good, still it doesn't begin to come up to that "down home," and this is why the Senator is watching the calendar so closely these days.—Washington Gossip in Louisville Post.

Month by month the time draws near for the opening of the Panama canal. The commercial world of Europe and Asia is aglow with preparations for that earth-changing event. America digs for the harvest of its own arduous planting. We are creating a waterway that will alter all the long trails of sea travel; we are spending our strength to double the efficiency of the ocean-carrying trade, best, safest and most enduring of all governments, and whenever our people are led to abandon such a government under pretense of assuming a more perfect form of "the people's government," they will like Republicans of today, lose their governing principle and power and place themselves at the mercy of their most active, ambitious and unscrupulous leaders. These possibilities make honest leadership of more importance than party success or temporary triumph.

Now if the Republicans of the United States want to show that we are mistaken in regard to their submission to leadership opposed to historic Republican principles, let them wake up and boldly face that overworked stigma of retrogression and go back to the McKinley platform declaration of 1900 on the tariff question. They can, but will they do it? If they do not thus express themselves and get out of their present deplorable condition as a party it will undoubtedly be for want of able and wise leadership.—New York American.

In both houses of Congress the resolution to amend the constitution by making the presidential term six years and no more, has been indorsed by both judiciary committees. Now the matter ought to be pushed to a vote and settled. There is no doubt the people favor the one-term idea. It is hardly a proposition to be argued.

Of course, there will be some senator who imagines himself a profound statesman, to interpose some objection and thus delay a vote for months. On nearly every plain question one such fellow pops up and gives notice that he will discuss the matter at some future time. Then another man concludes to make a speech on it, and in this way the bill does not come to a vote.

One of the worst evils in public life, and especially senatorial life, is putting things off, by some man boasting himself up with a threat to make a speech. When a senator conspires with himself to make a three-day's speech he ought to be arrested for treason or imbecility.—Ohio State Journal.

The news that President Taft has determined to make no campaign speeches is gratifying to a great number of people, irrespective of politics.

Perhaps, they are old-fashioned, but they have rather set ideas about the dignity of the office of President, and the spectacle of a man seeking the highest office in the gift of the people chasing after it is offensive to these good souls.

Much of what is best in life, perhaps, is illusionary—iconoclasts say so at least, and they know everything under the sun, and beneath the earth, so it must be so. And the illusion that the presidency should seek the man and not the man the presidency is one of the follies of thousands of patriotic Americans. President Taft in his preconvention campaign felt that it was necessary for him to take the "stump"—at least he was advised to do so by some of his associates, and he did do so. And yet thousands of good Republicans thought it a mistake.

For ourselves, during those strenuous days we were always reminded of a political friend, who because of his popularity was put on the ticket. He had never made a speech, and when he heard that he was to be congratulated by his friends and neighbors he prepared his maiden effort. They trooped in by tens and hundreds and shouted to him and figuratively patted him on the back, until he got that speech out of his system.

After the ordeal he inquired of his closest political friend what effect he thought the speech would have.

"Well, I duuno, Bill," replied the politician. "Those boys have all known you since you went to school together; they've been pretty strong for you, and they like to stick up for a friend. Oh, hell, I guess they will still vote for you."

It takes pretty strong friendship for a good many people to vote for a president-chasing candidate, and perhaps it is well. At least many good Republicans will congratulate Mr. Taft on his determination not to make speeches.—Commercial Tribune.

THEODORE'S GIFT OF GAB.

Ten-year-old Robert Roosevelt, son of Robert B. Roosevelt, cousin of Theodore Roosevelt and half-brother of Mrs. O. G. Roosevelt Bayne, is being tutored by the Rev. J. H. Prescott, rector of St. Ann's Episcopal church in Mayville, L. I. Sunday, in referring to the little fellow's ancestry, Rector Prescott explained to his pupil the Greek derivation of the name "Theodore." The rector said it means "The gift of God." Young Roosevelt retorted: "I guess you mean the 'The gift of Gab.'"

INNES AND HIS BAND

WILL BE AT THE BLUE GRASS FAIR IN LEXINGTON.

This Orchestral Band Has a Unique Reputation Wherever Good Music is Appreciated.

The Innes Band to be heard at the Blue Grass Fair at Lexington in August has a unique reputation throughout the whole country. No organization has a higher reputation for the rendition of the great standards in music, and the name of Innes has come to be synonymous with the best there is in the domain of high art. The services of the band are in constant demand, in fact, its principal work being the giving of festival celebrations in the big cities of the country.

The Innes Band is the result of many years of effort, of unceasing watchfulness to secure the best musicians in the world, of constant and tedious rehearsal, of tireless effort on the part of Innes himself and by the determination of each individual member of the organization to give the best that is in him.

Each player is selected with as much care and consideration as are the several soloists who accompany the band, and every man must pass a rigid examination by Innes himself, before he is accepted as a member of the band.

Beatrice Van Loon, the soprano, who is to be heard here during the coming engagement, is one of the younger American singers, who, like Nordica, Mary Garden and Gertrude Farrar, has, by her sensational successes in opera abroad, and in Boston, established herself as one of the world's great singers. She is said to possess a voice of true dramatic brilliancy.

SOME WORKING GIRLS LOSE TOO MUCH TIME

Two Girls Tell How To Avoid It.

There is nothing that teaches more than experience. We therefore quote from the letters of two girls who suffered and were restored to health. The same remedy is within reach of all.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"Prior to taking the first bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered agony every month, but after your wonderful medicine had been taken a while I felt a little better, and after taking seven bottles of it I feel that I can truly say I have no more pain or inconvenience.

"As I am out in the business world as a stenographer, I come in contact with many girls, and when the opportune moment arrives I tell them about the Vegetable Compound and I know that quite a few are taking it."—HELEN CANETT, 556 Dean St.

Another Girl's Experience.

Tishomingo, Okla.—"I am a stenographer and book-keeper, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved my life. I am enjoying the best of health now, but I was suffering from female troubles and painful periods, and would have backache, headache and fainting spells. If any woman would like to write to me I will gladly answer her letter and tell her what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. MATTIE COHENBAVER, Tishomingo, Okla.

After the ordeal he inquired of his closest political friend what effect he thought the speech would have.

FREE TO YOU—MY SISTER

Free to You and Every Sister Suffering from Woman's Ailments.

I am a woman. I know woman's sufferings. I have found the cure. I will mail you a free of charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from woman's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure, my reader, for yourself, your daughter, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is a safe and sure cure for Leucorrhoea or White Discharge, Ulceration, Displacement or Falling of the Uterus, Profuse, Scanty or Painful Periods, Uterine or Ovarian Tumors or Growths, also pains in the head, back and bowels, bearing down feeling, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, kidney and bladder trouble where caused by weakness peculiar to our sex. I want to send you a complete ten day's treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that it will cost you nothing to give the treatment a complete trial; and if you should wish to continue, it will cost you only about 12 cents a week, or less than two cents a day. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address, tell me how you suffer if you wish, and I will send you the treatment for your case, entirely free, in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost, my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER," with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures old, old or young. To Mothers of Daughters: I will explain a simple home treatment which readily and effectively cures Leucorrhoea, Green Discharge, Painful or Irregular Menstruation in Young Ladies. Plumpness and health always result from its use. Whenever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell you how this home treatment really cures all women's diseases, and makes women strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten day's treatment. It is also the book. Write today, as you may not see this offer again. Address: MRS. M. SUMMERS, Box 100, South Bend, Ind.

Stieglitz evidently had climbed the fence when holding a steel fishing rod, which attracted a current of electricity.

WOMEN TAKE NOTICE!

A man cannot understand the torture and suffering many women endure uncomplainingly. If the majority of men suffered as much pain and endured with patience the weakening sicknesses that most women do, they would ask for immediate sympathy and look for a quick cure.

Many women have been saved from a life of misery and suffering by turning to the right remedy—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy which is safe to take because containing no narcotics, alcohol or injurious ingredients. It is an extract of roots, made with pure glycerin, and first given to the public by that famous specialist in the diseases of women—Dr. R. V. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Lizzie M. Hershberger, of Lincoln, Neb., 529 C. St., says: "I send a testimonial with much pleasure so that some suffering woman may know the true worth of your remedies. I was a great sufferer from female troubles but after taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which a friend advised me to take, I found myself very much improved. After taking three more bottles, and using two boxes of Dr. Pierce's Little Tablets, I found myself on the road to recovery. I was in poor health for five years but now I am cured. I hope all women suffering from female weakness will give Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a fair trial."

BREEZY LETTER FROM LITTLE OLD NEW YORK

"Rodney" Gives Illuminating Facts of the Long Ago—Why Tim Woodruff Fell From the Taft Band Wagon, Etc.

New York, July 16th, 1912.

Editor Public Ledger: Away back yonder in Maysville, whence the memory of men raneth not to the contrary, when the political volcanoes, represented by the candidates for councilman of the respective wards, ranging from the first to the "bloody sixth," belched forth their sulphurous smoke, we were wont to glidly repeat that overworked and homely phrase, "When the smoke of battle" in dispatented we shall see the true inwardness of things in general, et al, and then some.

But it appears to me that if my recollection serves me one half as well as I have paid for it, that we didn't see much clearer after the battle than we did before it commenced, and many of us waited several of the ensuing weeks in vain conjectures as to "what hit us" any way.

Besides, the "smoke of battle" wasn't the only thing that dissipated on such occasions. Oh, no! Not by any means. There were others.

It usually took the Campaign Manager of the First Ward twenty-one consecutive astronomical days to come out of quarantine, and the Political Advisory Board of Chester were generally confined somewhat longer, in order to prevent contagion, and give the disheveled a chance to catch up with the best drum in the procession.

However, it was universally and invariably the proper thing to say after each of Maysville's political catclysmes:

"Jenny, my own true love I am— Wait till the clouds roll by."

I've often admired Jane's patience—in the face of the returns. Anyhow, Maysville having set the rest of the world the example, as she usually does, and advised it to investigate both the cases and effect only. "After the smoke of battle rolled away," etc, now, "Everbody's doing it," and here in New York such funny things are being revealed that I often take myself to one side and say: "My boy, this is no place for a minister's son, hence, duck!"

Speculation was rife, not only among the New York delegates to the Chicago convention, but in the city of Brooklyn and the State at large, as to why the Hon. Timothy L. Woodruff, ex-Republican Lieutenant Governor of the Empire State, and an open, notorious and avowed Taft delegate, saw fit to bolt Mr. Taft in favor of the rametaneous Bull Moose of Oyster Bay?

True, every friend and admirer of the would-be lion from Brooklyn were fully cognizant that the Hon. Timothy had the playful habit of changing his political mind at least once in every 24 hours, but they could not quite figure out his gymnastical flip at the Chicago convention especially in view of the fact that it certainly could not be due, to any deep rooted affection for the Colonel, who has heretofore usually rallied the scintilla in his right hip by kicking the bottom of Tim Woodruff's trousers on every available occasion. They were also fully apprised of the fact that the Hon. Tim and Comptroller Prongerger had between them such bitter political animosities that such a thing as sliding on each others' roller doors was not to be considered.

MAYSVILLE CITIZENS GLADLY TESTIFY AND CONFIDENTLY RECOMMEND DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

It is testimony like the following that has placed Doan's Kidney Pills so far above competitors. When people right here at home raise their voice in praise there is no room left for doubt. Read the public statement of a Maysville citizen:

Mrs. Dora Melford, Maysville, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me a lot of good and I am glad to tell about it. I had been feeling poorly for some time, before I knew that my kidneys were at fault. I was nervous and dizzy and my back and head ached. I rested poorly and mornings I was all tired out. I read in a local paper how a neighbor had been cured of kidney trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills. I used them, and before long I was actually better. I was able to sleep well and they improved my health."

considered as the proper caper, even for as much as 30 seconds.

The Bull Moose and Prongerger both tried to see which could land first on Tim's rear with the toe of their boots when they kicked him out of the state convention this spring, and up to the time Governor Woodruff arrived in Chicago as a bowling delegate for President Taft, he had been accustomed to lay awake nights trying to figure out if there was anything, or any thing within the range of human conception that he hated any worse than he hated the Progressive Alce Americana, with the conspicuous teeth.

Now why this change of heart and mind has kept folks guessing—until the "smoke of battle" has rolled away, and lo! and behold the "alger in the wood pile" comes out with a grin on his map.

Take it from me, and I got the tip from a source which stamps the report with the authentic face of truth, that these are the real and only reasons for the Hon. Timothy's flip to the Bull Moose.

You must herewith be advised, that the Ex-Lieutenant Governor has a few practical ideas about making substantial additions to the Woodruff exchequer—when he is not engaged in the patriotic duty of serving his beloved native soil; also and likewise for a good and sufficient pro tanto.

With this thrifty end in view the Hon. Timothy is said to have ventrard quite largely into real estate speculations in Flatbush, and other suburbs of the God-fearing (?) city of Brooklyn; bought lands, built flats and duplex apartments, mirabile riu, and for all of which he put in circulation highly engraved bits of paper with the name of Timothy L. Woodruff thereto inscribed in order to make them look pleasing to the eye and acceptable to the feelings of the predatory rich, who occasionally accommodate for a reasonable tip, but who here an unpleasant way of lavishing their fellow citizens to come across when these bits of paper get ripe.

Alas! Alas! and also, Ha! Ha! That's just what happened to Timothy. A whole bale of these little One Day's, on which Tim had scratched his John Henry, and for which he was expected to pay store to the warehouse that held them, suddenly and in due course, showed signs that they were not only ripe enough to pluck, but were actually growing mellow, and showing signs of the dry rot, and Tim was requested to go down in his jeans and pro duce.

Tim went down in his jeans for the pro, but found only the due to pay. The predatory rich all "laiz" to the due as a legal tender, and called for the stuff that is an equivalent for the little old red bug in Lobsteria, and the fix water with the sparkling eye. Then Timothy groaned in spirit and gave a sub-hi yi, as deep as woe could dig it, and as long drawn out as a kangaroo's tail.

About this time the Hon. George W. Perkins and the no less Hon. Frank Munsey, were prowling about the jungle of Chicago seeking for an innocent saddle of mutton which they might devour. Then their eyes fell on Timothy coming away from the remnant of a large and juicy schooner of aids; and looking very much like a hopeless case of appendicitis, and they forthwith then and there determined to slip up and throw salt on Tim's tail.

Be it known, if there is one citizen in this good old U. S. A. of ours who has the sweeter in mode developed to a higher degree of perfection than the big noise of the Harvester Trust, it is, it must be, that other friend of the dear people, and promoter of yellow back literature—Frank Munsey.

Both of these Bull Moose scents were wise and fully on about that bale of negotiable white slips in cold storage with Tim's John Henry smeared down in the right hand corner, and they at once held Timothy up and submitted the following proposition, couched in the superlative, if diplomatic parlance, thusly: "Tim, old sport, what's eatin' you any way? You know you r'ely bain't got nawthin agin the Bull Moose, an' Bull r'ely bain't got nawthin agin you, when you comes right down to cases—now bain't that so? You take it from me; that steam roller has just about run out of gasoline, an' the Colonel's hand wagon is glittin' ready to pull out. That's just one seat left, an' you kin have it—if you waster. Besides, it's about time for you to change your mind anyhow, according to your usual schedule. See here, Tim; me and Frank always did like you in a sneakin' sort of a way—that's straight, an' we are willin' to help a friend out of a tight hole any old time. Come over to the Bull Moose, an' fetch along your fluence with your delegation, an' we'll make you a present of that bale of I O U's as a token of our esteem, to stuff a mattress w-b. Now what'd ye say?

Nobody heard what Tim said—but?—Awful warm weather when it gets real hot, ain't it?

The clearance of the political skies has also thrown a ray of illuminating licorice light upon the Mrs. W. A. Davis episode in the gallery of the Republican Convention Hall, when, as she says, she was suddenly and testotally "inspired (?) to snuff a large and beautiful lithograph of "Theodore, whom we adore," and stomped the d-monstrative books from Governor Hadley, to her favorite Bull.

The fact that Mrs. Davis was a little cherty in the house that she bailed from Paducah, Ky., while it might lead more or less plucny to the sordid aftermath of that "inspired" occasion, still, it need not make Maysvillians turn green with envy at Paducah's possession of this modern Joan of Arc, especially when it leaks out that the "inspiration" which came to Madam D. was happily pre-arranged, staged and liberally paid for in the current coin of the Republic by one Manchester—a tool of Perkins and the McCormicks, a gentleman skilled in all that makes for the spectacular, and who has since been rewarded with a lucrative job with the Harvester Trust for his very diverting Coup de Maitre. The consideration of Mrs. Davis for her part of the circus is said to have been sufficient to keep the good lady in a supply of the same brand of "inspiration" for an indefinite period—provided she doesn't over indulge.

Now if anybody asks you who told you all these "reactionary" lies, just tell 'em I'm the guy that "put 'em in Cincinnati," and let it go at that, but advise them that they had better not offer odds that every bit of this foregoing is not facts with the protected wool on the outside.

Aside from politics, New York gossip reveals in the inckadadical discussion of high ball marriages and garbage can divorce suits. This will not appear abnormal when we take the fact into other consideration—that is to say, those of us who are occasionally unsoused, and do once in a while focus the rays of our thinker on the social problems of the day—that the boy-men and girl-women here, having reached their majority at about 18 years of age, take off their roller skates, grab a quart bottle of Hunter's rye and a sypoon by the neck, jump into a 40 horse-power mankiller at 12 o'clock at night, get married right off the reel, and, begin to discuss the feasibility of a divorce the next morning, when the combination of rye and seizer reacts and ice water is the only thing that makes life worth while.

Not strange at all, when one sees female octogenarians and bemale valtidnarinas playing the role of "affinites" on the roof gardens, the first wearin adolescent corsets, which force their stomachs six or eight inches above the waist line like poster pigeons, and the last, who have no stomachs at all, and who sustain a semblance of life only by their doctor's conivance, buttermilk tablets and the grace of the Devil.

Not a bit surprising, when vice and folly rush together in a "Bunny Hug," and, pari passu, dance the "Turkey Trot" and "Nigger Wiggle," sans puer et sans reproche.

Paris used to wear the cap and bells, but New York sports 'em now. Nevertheless, one sees, hears and reads quite a good deal of tommyrot and silly pastoral about "getting in touch with nature" these days when the mercury is boiling at 95° in the shade, despite the fact that Nature, being a discreet and self-respecting matron, invariably yells "Murder!" and bakes out when the average New Yorker tries to "get next." They know so much about nature—I don't think.

Perhaps they will learn more when Ella Spiler Woodcock publishes her charming and audacious busholic entitled "The Peckhamian Peccolations of a Postiferous Woodpecker."

Ark Steel Tube Bed
SQUARE TUBING
Price $
Do you see how the square cross-rod at top of head and foot beautifully fits bed? Imagine this design with round tubing in those positions. Would not the result be "ordinary" and monotonous?
It is just such details of clever and artistic designing that have made our steel bed so popular. And the very large corner posts with brass caps all combine to make this an unusually artistic bed.
Moreover this bed is as good as it looks. Because it is made of drawn steel tubing, very light in weight—extremely strong.
A child can move this bed with the greatest ease. Come in and see this bed. Then you will realize how good it is.
